

The sixth Canada Winter Games were held in Cape Breton, Nova Scotia with the Nova Scotia Team taking on the title as "The Home Team". The Cross Country Skiing competition got under way in Cape North running from February 1987, to February 1987.

The motto for the 1987 Games was Accepting the Challenge, and under the direction of Coach, Pierre Roy, and Manager, Maria Ramsey, the Nova Scotia Team did just that, accepted the challenge. Pierre came to the position as Coach with experience as a team member from the 1979 Canada Winter Games held in Brandon, Manitoba. Maria Ramsey, another dedicated volunteer, brought dedication and enthusiasm to the team, a definite asset. Along with Pierre and Maria, the athletes received assistance through their preparation for the Games from assistant coaches, Bryan Scallion (Wentworth) and Martin Bolland (New Minas) and Maritime Coach, Vaughn McGrath.

The Core Team started snow training on February 22, 1986, and continued on through the winter and the following summer leading up to the Games. One of the highlights for the 1986 season was the on-snow camp in Gaspé, Quebec.

The Team selection to represent Nova Scotia at the 1987 Canada Winter Games was as follows:

Coach: Pierre Roy, Stawiaske.
Manager: Maria Ramsey, Tantallon.
Women: Susan Benedict, Mount Uniacke;
Nancy Crickard, Halifax;
Andree Morrison, Dartmouth;
Michelle Baron, Kentville;
Shelley Coull, St. Peters (alternate).
Men: Mike Neary, Dartmouth;
Rory Ramsey, Tantallon;
Alexander Syverson, Cape North;
Andrew Lemmon, Kentville;
Mike MacDonnell, St. Peters (alternate).
